

JARO Education commences its CSR initiative by announcing Free Coaching for unemployed youth

Pune(Voice News Service-):- Jaro Education inaugurated Route2Jobs Online Free Coaching Program, meant for all employment entrance exams. As a part of their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) as well as Maharashtra day initiative, they have joined hands with the Employment Exchange of Maharashtra. Appreciating this initiative of Jaro Education, Mr. N.O. Bhatnagar said "We were waiting for such a service provider to impart right kind of skills to mammoth number of unemployed youth registered with 40 odd employment exchanges across Maharashtra. Given our resource constraints, Jaro will definitely help us in reducing our burden". He requested Jaro Education to share the success stories of the candidates who will get placed in various companies so that others can feel confident and motivated. He also assured that his department will work day in day out to make sure that the youth is trained and placed appropriately.

Highlighting the problem of unemployment across Maharashtra, Mrs. C.A. Kubal said that the candidates registered with them hail from lower socio economic class and vernacular medium. They are not computer friendly & lack communication skills, soft skills and vocational guidance. Hence the main problem is of employability of these candidates. Jaro can play an extremely vital role here". She further urged Jaro Education to introduce training programs in Marathi language. Mr. Sanjay Salunkhe, Director Jaro Education commented, "According to the NASSCOM-McKinsey report, only 10% of general graduates are employable, hence as a responsible organization, Jaro Education has taken the onus of empowering the youth and making them self reliant.
