

eINDIA ICT 2011 awards Jaro Education 'Champion Innovator's Award'

Ms Sawant receiving the Champion Innovator's Award from Prof Sudhir K Jain, Director, IIT, Gandhinagar at eINDIA ICT 2011 award ceremony

Jaro Education, India's leading online education service provider has won the Champion Innovator's Award in the recently held country's largest conference on Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) at Gandhinagar on December 16, 2011. The eINDIA Champion Innovators' Award is a competitive event for Indian start-ups which seeks to discover and encourage new start-up companies that are showing great potential in the technology space. The eINDIA Innovators platform has recognised the endeavors of Jaro Education in providing India's best online International MBA Program to ensure fast growth of their students (95 per cent working professionals) and help them reach greater heights through their flexible and convenient modes of learning.

Since seven years, e-India Awards have been acknowledging the best ICT practices and the practitioners integrating communication technology with education, health and governance. The e-INDIA ICT event has been highlighting the work being done by new entrepreneurs, who are active in the technology space and are running their own start-ups. This time, Jaro Education under the directorship of Mr Sanjay Salunkhe, has been acknowledged for its success in technology space at a short duration. Jaro Education has bagged two awards in the Year 2011 - 'India's Best International MBA Program' by India's premier Management Association - Bombay Management Association (BMA) and 'eINDIA ICT 2011 - Champion Innovator's Award' by the prestigious eINDIA ICT Awards.

At the event, distinguished jury panel members included eminent academicians and Indian education experts from across the education, health and ministry, who reviewed the nominations on the basis of uniqueness of the product, innovative business model and proposed revenue generating proposition. Hon'ble Chief Minister of Gujarat, Narendra Modi, was also expected at the event as the chief guest. On behalf of Jaro Education, Ms Madhu Sawant, GM - IT, received the eINDIA ICT 2011 - Champion Innovator's Award.

The e-INDIA ICT 2011 awards received nominations from the noteworthy players of the industry including Educomp Solutions Pvt Ltd; HCL Learning Systems; NIIT Limited; Next Education Pvt Ltd and Pearson Education services.

Jaro Education is established to develop and provide management programs to students, working professionals and entrepreneurs who wish to bring the desired change in business organisations and implement innovations in professional practices. It is specialised in providing integrated, multidisciplinary and focused educational programs. Jaro Education believes in learning through innovation. Hence, they have introduced online classroom facilities for the students/ working executives who can attend online interactive lectures at their convenient time and location.

The programs being offered carry global focus and cater to the ever changing needs of the corporate world arising out of globalisation. The innovative and flexible programs are designed after extensive research by faculty in consultation with leaders from industry and academia that gives knowledge of national as well as international business culture, environment and management. Jaro Education is internationally recognised, reputed institute certified by various international associations such as - UKAS - UK, USDLS - US, JAS-ANZ, IADL and ASCB - Europe, EAIE - Europe. Jaro Education has also introduced a unique industry-integrated program, based on 'Earn & Learn' concept to help students make successful transition to corporate world and fulfill industry expectation successfully because while doing MBA they will also be working in organisations.